Retirement Options Factsheet - Jersey

You have significant flexibility in terms of when and how you choose to access your pension benefits in retirement.

It is important that you are aware of the options available and consider the benefits and risks associated with each before deciding how to draw your pension.

Rossborough Financial will advise and assist you in deciding which is most appropriate based on your personal circumstances.

Tax-Free Lump Sum

At retirement you can take up to 30% of your pension fund as a tax-free lump sum, the remainder of your fund can then be used to provide you with an income in retirement.

Annuity Purchase

See diagram below

You can use your pension fund to purchase an annuity from an authorised insurance company conducting annuity business in Jersey.

The amount of pension income payable will depend on the actual amount available to purchase an annuity and annuity rates at the time you retire.

An annuity provides a guaranteed income for life and can be structured according to your requirements. The more options you include the lower your initial level of income will be:

- Indexation - you can choose either a level income or an income which increases each year.
- Spouse's Pension - the annuity could continue to pay an income to your spouse on your death.
- Guaranteed Period - to offer some protection against the loss of your annuity benefits if you die shortly after retirement you can include a minimum period over which your annuity will continue to be paid, typically five years.

The option to purchase an annuity is available to age 75 and will be dependent upon the availability of an authorised insurance company conducting annuity business in Jersey when you retire.

Tax-free lump sum and purchase of an annuity:

to secure a guaranteed income in retirement.

Annuity Equivalent Income

As an alternative to purchasing an annuity you can retain ownership and control of your pension fund by transferring the full value of your pension fund to a Retirement Trust Scheme (RTS) where you will then have the option to:

- Take up to 30% of your pension fund as a tax-free lump sum.
- Draw an income directly from your pension fund, this is known as an Annuity Equivalent Income (AEI).

You can choose the amount of your AEI within maximum limits prescribed by the Comptroller as determined by reference to the UK Government Actuary's Department published tables.

Your income would typically be paid yearly.

The balance of your pension fund will remain invested in your RTS where it may continue to benefit from future growth after you have retired.

On death after your retirement, i.e. you have taken a tax-free lump sum and/or AEI, the balance of your pension fund can pass to either:

- your surviving spouse, net of Jersey income tax at half the standard rate, or
- your Estate net of Jersey income tax at half the standard rate.

Your surviving spouse also has the option to retain your RTS and continue to draw an income from the pension fund.

If you elect to draw your AEI please allow 60 days before the first instalment to be paid.

Annuity Equivalent Income. Take tax-free lump sum and income directly from the fund.

Pension Drawdown

Subject to certain conditions you can transfer your pension fund to a Pension Drawdown Contract and immediately withdraw an unrestricted amount i.e. up to 100% of the value.

It is permitted for up to 30% of the maturing fund value to be paid to you tax free prior to making a transfer to a Pension Drawdown Contract.

To establish a Pension Drawdown Contract you must be able to meet the 'Minimum Retirement Income' (MRI) requirement or the Minimum Retirement Capital requirement (MRC). MRI is a guaranteed lifetime income of an amount not less than the single person's full States of Jersey old age pension, increasing by at least 3% per annum. MRC is a minimum capital threshold requirement the level of which is based upon age, please contact a Rossborough Consultant to establish if you meet this requirement.

On death the remaining balance of your pension fund passes to your Estate net of the standard rate of Jersey income tax.

The Need for Advice

Although the Annuity Equivalent Income and Pension Drawdown options offer considerable flexibility and control of your pension benefits in retirement, they are complex financial arrangements which may carry a higher degree of risk and ongoing costs. It is therefore important that you seek specialist retirement planning advice before deciding on either of these options.

Pension Benefits Income Tax and Long Term Care Contributions Position

With the exception of the payment of any tax-free lump sum all other pension benefits, either in the form of an annuity, an AEI or withdrawal from a Pension Drawdown Contract will be subject to Jersey income tax and possibly the Long Term Care Contribution..

Transfer fund to Pension Drawdown contract:

Take tax-free lump sum up to 30%; transfer to drawdown and take unrestricted withdrawals.

If the value of your pension fund is relatively small you may be permitted to have your pension fund paid directly to you as a lump sum.

Triviality

You may elect to receive your pension fund as a lump sum on the grounds of triviality once you have attained age 60.

Your benefits in The Plan may be considered to be trivial if the total value of your pension fund together with any other pension benefits taken under triviality do not exceed £50,000 net of the tax free lump sum.

Under the triviality option you may receive your pension fund as a lump sum payment which is subject to income tax at 10%.

If your pension fund includes benefits transferred in from or previously accrued in an approved UK pension arrangement then you will not be able to access your benefits under the triviality provisions.

If you elect to take your benefits on the grounds of triviality a termination fee may apply.

Small Fund Commutation

You may be permitted to commute the whole of your fund value to a cash lump sum prior to your selected retirement age if your total fund value is £10,000 or less and you are no longer an employee of the employer contributing to the Plan.

This will be paid net of Jersey Income Tax.

The gross small fund commutation and income tax deducted should be declared on your Income Tax Return

If your pension fund includes benefits transferred in from or previously accrued in an approved UK pension arrangement then you will not be able to access your benefits under the small fund commutation provisions.

If you elect to take your benefits on the grounds of small fund commutation a termination fee may apply.
